Going To Try Again — By Albert T. Reid

Pertinent Paragraphs

Now that the weather is becoming adaptable to picnics and camp meals we would like to say a few words in regard to the proper disposal of refuse, of which there is always a certain amount after a meal in the open. eW are thankful that we live in a community of people who, for the most part, need no such reminder to conduct themselves neatly on the picnic or camping grounds of this state. But there are always a few who, through ignorance or pure cussedness, manage to leave the site of an outdoor repast strewn with rubbish which not only makes an otherwise lovely spot very unattractive but creates in the hearts of better-mannered citizens a feeling of disgust and loathing for the offenders, as well. If a basket luncheon has been enjoyed, paper plates, napkins, egg shells, etc., should be returned to the basket and destroyed at home. Campers should burn all their inflammable refuse and bury the remainder—tin cans, garbage, et. It takes very little effort to tidy up after your sojourn with nature—and the person who fails to do so will quickly gain the reputation of being somewhat of a hog.

And speaking of hogs—Sunday the writer observed a fence at least eight feet high, topped off with three strands of barbed wire. This fence surrounds an apricot orchard on one of the main highways leading into San Jose. Barbed wire is what they use in the middle west to keep cattle off crop-producing soil, and we just wonder if that wasn't the idea of the orchardist who encircled his trees with the spiked strands.

Many words have been written about the tender heart of woman. Most of them were well said, but allow us to call your attention to the Oakland woman who, with her automobile, fatally injured a four-year-old lad and proceeded to get married ehe same evening, while her little daughter by a previous marriage lay seriously ill in the same hospital in which her youthful victim died of his injuries. When authorities sought her for questioning in the matter of the death of the small boy, it became known that she was on her honeymoon. The woman not only lacked a heart of any kind but was also devoid of the slightest trace of conscience.

Despite reports of damage to fruit by frost, leading packers and many growers of the Santa Clara valley predict a prosperous year, with damage much less than reported in early rumors. Other parts of the staee have been badly hit, reports from northern counties painting pictures of entire sections wiped out by frost. We hope—and to a cereain extent believe—that these reports are, in a measure, exaggerated. If, however, there is a shortage, the advance in price of the remainder of the crop will probably offset the loss in tonnage.

That a member of the high school student body is responsible for certain criticisms recently made in these columns is the erroneous report that reached our ears this week. For the information of the public we would like to say at this time that the column you are now reading is the product of the editor. News stories are gathered from what we believe to be reliable sources and the opinion of The Press is never incorporated in the said news stories.

That's all.

Welcomes "Talkies"

Richard Dix, Paramount star, who was formerly a "matinee idol" of the legitimate stage, is one established picture player who welcomes the arrival of "talking pictures." Dix has had the advantage of a stage training under the guidance of William Faversham.

KIWANIS NOTES

We need not go abroad for interesting speakers or topics when the most vitally interesting subject, "Agriculture," is at our very door and the speakers are among us who know their goods. This was thoroughly demonstrated at the Tuesday luncheon when S. Nic Hedegard gave a very clear and instructive talk on rice culture in California. One of the faults, he pointed out, is the lack of knowledge of the various branches of agriculture by those following that industry.

Mr. Hedegard began his rice education in Texas under the "Providence" irrigation system and for lack of moisture were many of the hard lessons due. Since coming to California he has been instrumental in starting the culture of rice in several counties and has been called on to help farmers through their troubles with this grain in several communities.

His new venture is selling both the idea and the product to service club diners as an aid to hte growers and the charity fund.

Mr. Hedegard opened an avenue of programs for the club for some time to come and we may expect agriculture, the most important of all industries, to be thoroughly explained in all its branches by men who "know their onions," chicke, cows or prunes.

Bandmaster Thielke directed the Grammar School orchestra through several entertaining musical numbers that were much enjoyed.

Ernest Nickel of San Jose rendered three very fine whistling numbers.

The Scout-Campfire building committee reported that $2,100 had been raised to the present date. The committe has been authorized to purchase the lot and building materials. The trees will probably be cleaned from the property this week.

Pledges and subscriptions are still needed tnd if anyone has been missed in th canvass they may phone or see Ralph Hyde. It is hoped that the necessary funds will be raised by next week. As an honor roll the Press will publish the names of all who help in this good work that a permanent record may be kept.

Dr. D. I. Merrill will act as chairman next week and the Rev. Benjamin Gould of San Jose will be speaker of the day.

I. R. Abbott, T. R. Gail and T. A. Cutting are a committee of assistants who will aid the Rev. J. H. Bennett in managing the Scout activities.

Woman's Club Hears Speaker On Peace Pact

Alonzo Baker of ehe "Signs of the Times," published at Mountain View, gave a most enlightening and instructive talk at Monday's meeting of the Country Woman's club.

Speaking on the subject, "The Kellogg Peace Pact," he reviewed the political situation in Europe which had been responsible for many wars, including the last great war. Then he gave a few of the major provisions of the Versailles treaty and how ehey have been working out, following this with an acrount of the disarmament conference, the provisions adopted and the resultant conditions of cruiser construction by England and of air craft by France, in place of dreadnaughts. Mr. Baker reviewed the Geneva conference to which France and Italy sent no delegates and at which England and the United States failed to come to any terms. The Peace pact, as written by Secretary Kellogg is a simple promise of the nations that subscribe to it that they renounce was as a national policy and denounce recourse to arms as a means of settlement of difficulties, no matter what arises.

There is no method or provision made for its enforcement, and it depends wholly upon the good will of those who sign it for its worth. Under this condition it is absolutely imperative that public opinion and sentiment against war be so cultivated and aroused that the leaders and statesmen in authority among the nations will not be able to involve their countries in war, accorhing to Mr. Baker.

The seven "germs" of war were outlined by the speaker and each explained in detail. They are: (1) Secret Diplomacy, (2) Economic Rivalry, (3) Balance of Power, (4) Subject Minority aNtions, (5) Imperialism, (6) Militarism, (7) Spirit of Hatred, Fear and Revenge. The last is really the root cause of war in that it is through these spirits that the other causes are brought about.

The program was made doubly attractive by the singing of Mrs. Allan Rudolph of San Jose, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Rudolph Blauer. She sang two groups of songs, (a) "Dreamin' Time" by Strickland; (b) "I Know a Lovely Garden" by Guy D. Hardelot and in the second group, (a) "The Pool of Quietness," Cator, (b) "In the Luxembourg Gardens," Manning, and (c) "A Cycle of Life," Ronald.

Jars of beautiful wild rhododendrons brought by Mrs. R. H. Hyde from Mendocino county were greatly admired and enjoyed.

The committee responsible for the program included the Mesdames R. H. Hyde, Chas. Berry, F. M. Righter and C. A. Sutter.

The meeting of May 6 is the annual meeting when at least one more than half the number of members must be present to form a quorum and every one is urged to make a very speiial effort to reserve that date.

Morgan Hill Queen Candidate

"If I were queen—," pensively wishes Miss Marguerite Underwood of Morgan Hill. And she has a very good chance of being queen. Miss Underwood is the first to be elected as queen candidate for the Santa Clar County Fiesta de las Rosas.

San Jose, April 18—A stately blue-eyed blond of 17, Miss Marguerite Underwood, will represent Morgan Hill as queen candidate in the Santa Clara county Fiesta de las Rosas to be held in San Jose May 17 and 18.

Miss Underwood, granddaughter of Charles Du Bois, county pioneer, comes from one of the oldest families in Morgan Hill. She is the first queen candidate to enter the contest and also the first to be named a representative of any county town.

She is a student of Morgan Hill schools and has lived there all her life with the exception of a school term at Palo Alto and a brief residence in San Francisco.

Campbell is expected to enter a candidate for the position of queen of the fiesta. Dr. W. I. Merrill has been appointed chairman of the local queen committee and he, with several other Campbell men, is working on the proposition now and a definite announcement is expected next week.

SCOUT NOTES

Over fifty boys of Troop 28 sat down last week to a real hot dog feast, followed with cookies and other good things. Ted Gail of the Peter Pan bakery was loudly cheered for his generous donation. After the feed competitions were held in preparation for parents night. Also Dr. W. I. Merrill gave the boys further instruction in bandaging.

Kiwanis club members Ira Abbott, Ted Gail and Ralph Hyde have promised to assist in any way possible with this growing work whenever Joe Bennett may need them.

The Thursday group of Scouts will meet at 3:45 p.m. It is open to any Scouts who prefer to attend at that time.

U. S. NAVY BOATS PUT AT DISPOSAL OF THE SEA SCOUTS

Two former navy boats, each 24 feet in length, will be brought down from Mare island this week, and will be moored at Alviso for the use of San Jose and Campbell Sea Scouts.

The boats are the gift of the United States government.

Saturday a delegation of the scouts will visit the navy yards where they will see all types of merchant and fighting vessels.

A delightful surprise birthday party was given George Medlock on Thursday of last week. Dinner was served at 6:30 to the members of the family, and later they were joined by other guests.

Bridge and whist were played until a late hour when refreshments were served.

Those who enjoyed the happy occasion with their hosts were Messrs and Mesdames M. E. Purmort, Elmer Pope, S. Major King, Mr. A. A. Purmort, Mrs. May Goodau of San Francisco, Miss Agnes Wicklard of San Jose and Mr. Lloyd and Mr. Caugley of Palo Alto.

CAMPBELL HI GROUP WILL STAGE CONCERT EVENING OF MAY 10

The orchestra of the Campbell union high school will give a concert the evening of May 10—the second this year. The first, given last November, was a very worthy performance and was thoroughly enjoyed by those in attendance.

The orchestra has been of great service ehis year both to the school and to the community, giving overtures at the senior play, the operetta and at assemblies. It has also played at the county forum programs in the San Jose high school building, for the P. T. A. and over KQW.

The orchestra consists of 26 members and employs a full variety of instruments. The proceeds of the concert will be used for the purchase of new instruments. There will be a one-act play to supplement the musical program.

60,000 Telephone Men Trained In First Aid Work

Accident Victims Given Timely Aid, Relieving Pain and Saving Life

A SCREECH of brakes, a scream of fright, a crash and two more automobiles have collided on a lonely country road far from the nearest doctor and farther still from the nearest hospital.

Sitting astride a crossarm on a pole near the scene of the accident is a telephone lineman diligently at work on a new speech highway for the public. He quickly unsnaps his safety strap which holds him securely on his lofty perch, swings into position on the pole and with the skill acquired by long practice rapidly descends. A call to his fellow workers up the road brings skilled, efficient help and the standard first aid supplies of the Bell System always available on the job.

In the crash a young boy has been thrown against a shattered windshield and blood is spurting from a bad gash in his wrist. The lineman grasps the youngster's arm at the elbow and by pressure of the fingers at just the right point the bleeding suddenly stops and a young life with all of its possibilities of accomplishments has been saved, for the loss of too much blood makes the task of the doctor hopeless when he arrives. The necessary further first aid treatment is given to the boy's wound and the less critical injuries of the other motorists are cared for by the telephone crew from the supplies of the Bell System's first aid kit. A passing motorist in a large comfortable car takes the injured group to the nearest doctor where his services because of the excellent first aid treatment rendered by the telephone men, are most effective.

Back of this typical example of the splendid humanitarian service of this isolated telephone crew is a story of the spirit of service of the individual members of a huge national public utility. Over 60,000 plant men of the Bell System scattered all over the country in the performance of their daily tasks, on the city streets and country roads, in the homes and offices of the telephone subscribers, are trained and equipped, ready and willing to serve the American public in saving life and relieving pain in an emergency.

In collaboration with the American National Red Cross some seven years ago the Bell Telephone System undertook the gigantic task of training plant employees in first aid. The plant employees are those who construct and maintain the telephone poles, wires and cables of the System, maintain the central offices and equipment and install and maintain the telephone instruments in the subscribers' homes and offices. This training includes such features as the proper methods to follow in connection with resuscitation from drowning, electric shock, gas asphyxiation and other forms of suffocation, the first aid treatment for controlling severe bleeding, caring for cuts and burns, splinting broken bones, etc. In short, the training covers all of those features which relieve the patient's pain and suffering and keep him in the best possible condition so that the services of a doctor can be most effective when he takes charge of the case.

One evening at supper time the Rabbit family were eating and talking. Mother Rabbit held the center of attention as she began:

"Father, I was over to see Mrs. Squirrel the other day and she has been having a terrible time with her youngest child, he acted a lie."

"So?" exclaimed Br'er Rabbit in surprise.

"Yes," went on Mrs. Rabbit. "She put some cup custard out to cool and somebody ate it. Of course she didn't want to accuse her little Jimmy, but she knew he must have had something to do with it. Even if he didn't take the custard, he knew who did. She felt that he had acted a lie."

All this time Billie Bunny was shuffling in his seat.

"Of course I'm not a detective," said Mrs. Rabbit, "but I believe someone took your pipe from under the table the other day and you had a smoke. Now, whoever did that has a speck of dirt on the end of his nose."

Billie took his napkin and rubbed his nose.

Mother Rabbit looked at him in surprise and said: "I thought I told you not to tell your father where his pipe was."

"I felt so sorry for him that I just couldn't help putting the pipe where he could have a short smoke," whinnied Billie. Then he added: "But, Mother, how did you know Father had a smoke?"

"Easy enough, my dear, the pipe was warm when I gave it to your father and I remembered you were the only one who knew where the pipe was."

"OH!" sighed Billie.

When Commas Wreck Life's Plans

Frequently we hear of estates thrown into costly litigation or property passing to others than those intended to receive it, all because of a misplaced comma or an unfortunate period. There are many dangers other than punctuation that threaten the home-made will. ¶ Make sure that your will will stand all the tests of law by having it prepared today by a competent attorney. Tell him to name this trust company as your executor and trustee and make certain your estate will be handled efficiently, economically and wisely.

18 CHILDREN IN 9 YEARS. THE PRESIDENT WILL BOSS. STRANGE OLD CHINESE. McNARY ASKS ADVICE.

Let ladies who feel they really "can't afford more than two children with everything so expensive," consider Frau Alfred Voellner, of Demmin, Germany. Twenty-eight years old, she has eighteen children, all under nine years of age. She had a boy in 1920, a girl in 1922 and four sets of quadruplets in 1923, 1925, 1927 and 1929, sixteen children in four births. All are alive, ten boys, eight girls.

It was said here during the war that because conquerors no longer dragged women away into slavery, Germany would soon recover.

Frau Voellner confirms that.

Washington says President Hoover intends to be the boss of his party. He might well, since it gave him 22,000,000 votes. Republicans of the South are told the Republican party must be reconstructed there on a sound, permanent basis, on the assumption that the war is past and forgotten, and that the South will join Republican prosperity politically, if the Republicans behave themselves.

Selling Federal offices to the highest bidder is to be stopped.

Some Congressmen insist that President Hoover must write a farm relief bill and let the party pass it. The President will probably say, "No, you write it and pass it. If it isn't too foolish I will sign it."

It is not easy to confer to a disorganized industry, millions of men on millions of farms, producing without method or plan, the prosperity enjoyed by well organized quantity production industry that pays good dividends.

A very old Chinese statesman named Wu Tze-Hui was one of three that, on their word of honor, guaranteed the life and safety of Li Chai-sun, governor of Canton.

Li Chai-sun was executed by the Nationalists, in spite of the guarantee. The aged Wu Tze-hui considered himself disgraced and killed himself, although he had nothing to do with the execution of the man guaranteed. Many Westerners will find it difficult to understand that suicide.

Senator McNary, head of the Committee on Farm Relief, asks John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Henry Ford, Charles M. Schwab, J. P. Morgan, Paul M. Warburg and Owen D. Young to give advice.

That interesting collection of farmers would probably tell the farmers first of all to organize their business, eliminate lost motion and time, including an hour and a half for the hired man to harness and unharness the team. But Rockefeller, Schwab and Young decline to advise. Morgan is in Europe. The farmers will have to work out their problem.

Sir Hubert Wilkins plans to cross the Arctic in a submarine, under the ice, to map out the depth of water, shape of the basin containing the Arctic, etc.

He would follow cracks in the ice, coming up every twenty-four hours to recharge batteries.

Thus, for thousands of years, the seal and walrus have explored Arctic and Antarctic seas. They have known how to keep holes in the ice open all through the Winter, for breathing and observation. The lower animals show us, we improve on their methods.

NOT A SINGLE ARREST

The town of Hooper, Neb., has laid claim to the "Law Abiding Championship."

It is a town of 1,014 population, and during 1928 not a single arrest was made within its borders.

All the people obeyed the law. At least none were caughe disobeying it.

William J. Dau, chairman of the board of trustees of tsat town, says that the churches are well attended, the schools are well filled, and the people mostly "mind their own business."

That's the valuable lesson that can be learned from the record of this model town. The people mostly "mind their own business."

When people do that, there is very little chance of their breaking any laws. More than that, there is very little chance of the heartbreaking tragedies that happen mostly because people attend to other people's business.

Well said, Mr. Dau.

WOOD THAT WON'T BURN

A Norwegian engineer has invented a process for impregnating wood with a substance that renders it fireproof.

A building composed of timbers of impregnated wood, it is reported, was erected near Oslo, the Norwegian capital.

All efforts to set it afire failed.

Provided the cost of the process is not too great, this discovery is very valuable. It will mean safer homes. It will mean reduced insurance rates.

The very thought brings to mind all kinds of possibilities.

It strikes us too that this kind of wood has been known before.

Anyway, something just like it seems to have been used in the manufacture of certain foreign brands of matches.

The GENERAL TIRE
—goes a long way to make friends

Comfort

Since the automobile has become a daily necessity of our business and pleasure, comfort is an advantage much sought after. General pioneered the development of low-pressure tires long before balloons were in the picture. Today car owners are enjoying the results of this long experience by getting the greater comfort of General's low pressure without sacrificing any of General's big mileage. And with General this applies to all regular sizes as well as 4-ply and 6-ply balloons. If you are seeking real comfort, you will find it in Generals.

"John Brown speaking"

Many telephone customers follow the modern style: "I give my own name—at once—and if it is a business call I also give the name of my firm. This establishes my identity."

Such an introduction permits both parties to get down to business without loss of time. And it makes a fine impression.

THE FUMBLE FAMIIY

By DUNKEL

DURING MY ROVINGS AS A YOUNG FELLER I WAS ONCE ATTACKED BY A FEROCIOUS TIGER IN AN AFRICAN JUNGLE. AFTER GIVING HIM A STIFF FIGHT I SUCCEEDED IN OVERPOWERING HIM, QUITE A TASK I MUST SAY!
I CHRISTEN THEE "KOKO"
OUCH!
"WELL, AFTER I CAPTURED MR TIGER I CHRISTENED HIM AND MADE HIM MY PET—MEOW!?
"HE BECAME SO TAME HE FOLLOWED ME WHEREVER I WENT. HE PURRED JUST LIKE A PUSSY CAT!"
YES. HOW WELL, I REMEMBER THOSE DAYS IN AFRICA WITH THE HOT, SWELTERING CLIMATE OF THAT TROPICAL JUNGLE. THERE WAS LITTLE WATER TO BE HAD, BARELY ENOUGH FOR DRINKING PURPOSES.
HOW DID YOU KEEP CLEAN THEN POP?
DON'T FORGET TO GO BEHIND THE EARS "KOKO"
"LITTLE KOKO WAS KIND TO ME; HE USED TO WASH MY FACE FOR ME EVERY MORNING!"
